

Student Breakthrough

WANTED:

Teachers, educators, lecturers, and mentors who want to learn how to coach young people, revolutionise emotional support for students and create a new life outside the classroom.

I am passionate about helping teachers, educators, lecturers, and mentors to become student coaches and learn new skills to powerfully impact the lives of young people.

The Coach Breakthrough is for you – the teacher who wants to offer a revolutionary type of support for students.

The Coach Breakthrough is for you – the educator who wants children to gain an emotional education.

The Coach Breakthrough is for you – the teacher who wants to create a new life outside of the classroom and live with freedom.

CREATE A NEW LIFE OUTSIDE THE CLASSROOM...

The Coach Breakthrough has been created to help teachers, educators, lecturers, and mentors learn how to coach young people, revolutionise emotional support for students and create a new life for themselves.

Each training programme is hands on, it's as much about doing as it is about learning. That's why we've got a high level of accountability built into each programme.

We'll be holding your hand every step of the way to ensure that you are equipped with the vision, tools and perspectives to start coaching students to live their best life.

THE REVOLUTION IN EMOTIONAL SUPPORT...

Being in education can be frustrating at times. The fixation with testing, data and results can lead to many problems for not only students, but staff as well.

Having taught in classrooms across the country for half a decade, I witnessed many students that struggled. The problems including things such as anxiety, stress, under achievement, low motivation and a lack of confidence to name just a few. I felt the emotional support for young people was outdated and it was not having a significant impact.

Student Breakthrough uses revolutionary coaching methods to provide young people with the tools, vision and techniques to succeed in all aspects of life.

You might be wondering how you can have a more significant impact and learn new skills to grow on a personal and professional level, whilst helping young people to develop skills for life.

We have three programmes for you to choose from, that have been designed to meet your needs, depending on where you currently are, and where you want to go..

Below is an overview of what is included in each programme:

WHAT COULD BE POSSIBLE...

Joining one of our programmes is a significant investment in both your personal and professional development.

The fee really isn't the most important figure here, the most important figure is the young people that you can help, the new life you can create and the new income you can generate.

Many of our graduates from our courses have set up their own coaching business, have new jobs working in education and are generating new income on the side of their current career.

SO, LET ME ASK YOU A QUESTION, IF NOT NOW, THEN WHEN?

I look forward to working with you!
